Federal Communications Commission
 Office of the Secretary

Thank you for your comment to the FCC regarding the rulemaking to re-examine the Commission's policies on unbundled network elements (UNEs).

The Triennial Review Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (NPRM) CC Docket No. 01-338; CC Docket No. 96-98 and CC Docket No. 98-147. seeks to identify more precisely how incumbent local exchange carriers must provide competitors access to their ubiquitous networks. The NPRM also seeks comment on how the Commission's unbundling rules may best foster the Act's goals, including promotion of competition, deployment of advanced broadband services, and incentives for investment in facilities. Specifically, this inquiry requests input on how the Commission should refine its unbundling analysis.

Your comment has been printed and forwarded to the FCC's Office of the Secretary for review and association with the docketed proceeding.

For future comments and/or to follow this proceeding, please access the Electronic Filing System available at our web site at <http://www.fcc.gov/e-file/ecfs.html>

The Electronic Comment Filing System (ECFS) is designed to give access to Commission rulemakings and docketed proceedings via the World Wide Web. ECFS will: accept electronic comments in FCC rulemakings and docketed proceedings; scan in paper documents; and research, retrieve, and print any documents in the system.

Dear Sir,

Just wanted to let you know today I was informed I will be laid off.
 Deregulation rears its ugly head.

As a cable repairman I see first hand what it takes to provide quality service to customers.

Maybe, Just maybe some things of high quality can't be measured in dollars and cents.

As the workforce is reduced so will the service for both ilacs and clecs nobody wins but the get rich quick con artists.

I hope you will give this matter your attention, The nation depends on it.

Thank You

James V Cannavino
